It is my pleasure and honor to invite you to the Satellite Meeting 2009 organised by the League of Asean Dermatological Societies (LADS) hosted by the Dermatological Society of Vietnam. This special event will also mark the inaugural meeting of the Asian Academy of Dermatology and Venereology (AADV) which has been spearheaded by the members of LADS.

We are indeed proud to bring this important and prestigious scientific meeting to welcome our Vietnamese colleagues into this important regional fraternity.

As in other major regions of the world, the specialty of dermatology has come of age in Asia. The LADS was made significant strides over the last few years and will continue to evolve and grow with the formation of the AADV.

This Satellite Meeting 2009 presents a unique opportunity for the dermatological profession in Asia to come together in fraternity and fellowship to review the latest developments and breakthroughs in two important areas of dermatology, namely psoriasis and eczema. It will provide our dermatologists with a platform to exchange experiences and ideas in clinical practice and research.

This conference will not only provide a platform for knowledge exchange among our colleagues in Asia but will also pave the way for enhanced regional and international cooperation in the field of dermatology.

I am confident that you will find this Satellite Meeting 2009 an excellent educational and memorable experience.

On behalf of the Organising Committee I bid you a warm welcome to Hanoi.

Steven K W Chow
Chairman
International Organising Committee
Secretary-General LADS / AADV
Message from the Chairman of the Dermatological Society of Vietnam

Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the Dermatological Society of Vietnam, I am very pleased to welcome you to the Satellite Meeting 2009 in Hanoi, Vietnam, 6th to 7th November 2009.

The Satellite Meeting 2009 is the unique platform for all dermatologists around Asean to make friends with one another, share and learn new knowledge from latest studies or simply from other colleagues’ valuable experience in Dermatological practice.

Hanoi, the capital of Vietnam, is the host for the Satellite Meeting 2009 this year. Hanoi is recognised as a centre of scientific research, technological innovations and development, particularly in the field of medicine and medical sciences. The Organising Committee has prepared various scientific activities for the participants. I am confident that all of you would be able to gain more knowledge about Dermatological science throughout all the sessions we organise. At the same time, I hope you would also enjoy making new friends with other Dermatologists since this is a unique opportunity to learn how and what our colleagues are doing in various countries in Asia.

I look forward to meeting you all at the Satellite Meeting 2009.

Assoc Prof Pham Van Hien
Chairman
Dermatological Society of Vietnam
Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the Organising Committee of the Satellite Meeting 2009, we would like to extend our warmest welcome to all the participants of this event.

In this new millennium, healthcare, in general, is gaining more and more public’s interest. Skin care, particularly, has become one of the most burning fields with rising public demand. In addition, dermatology and dermatological science are witnessing rapid development with a lot of researches and technologies emerging every day. Therefore, it is vital for us, as dermatologists, to update and keep up with new knowledge and discoveries in our field.

The Satellite Meeting 2009 is a special event, serving as a platform where dermatologists from various regions in Asean have an opportunity to gather, exchange ideas and learn advanced knowledge in the field of dermatology. With that aim, this year, Vietnam is honored to be the host of this Satellite Meeting 2009. We, the Organising Committee, have planned a variety of scientific programs, including reports of newest research and studies. Besides, some social activities are also well-prepared to welcome all of you to Hanoi and to introduce to you Vietnam’s unique culture and customs.

Let us have a few words of introduction to Hanoi, the host city for the Satellite Meeting 2009. Hanoi is the capital, located at the North of Vietnam. It is a highly dynamic city with swift development and changes. Despite such fast growth, the traditional elements and cultural values are nicely preserved and can be found in every corner of Hanoi. Therefore, we are sure that you would enjoy your time staying with us, exploring our culture, tasting our famous specialties and experiencing a unique “Hanoi”.

Again, the Organising Committee of the Satellite Meeting 2009 ADS sincerely welcome all of you to Hanoi and wish you a stimulating meeting and enjoyable stay.

We look forward to meeting all of you soon in Hanoi.

Assoc Prof Tran Hau Khang
Local Organising Committee &
Director, National Institute of Dermatology & Venereology
Malcolm W Greaves
MD PhD FRCP
Emeritus Professor of Dermatology

Professor Greaves has spent nearly all his professional life teaching dermatology and trying to help patients suffering from skin diseases. He is moved by how skin diseases can be debilitating, depressing and prejudicial to quality of life of its sufferers.

His expertise encompasses all aspects of clinical dermatology except cosmetic / aesthetic dermatology. His areas of special expertise include dermatological therapeutics, dermatological allergy, urticaria, angioedema, pruritus (itching), skin infections including tropical dermatology, photosensitivity and skin complications of internal disease.

He graduated in medicine from the University of London and subsequently obtained Membership of the Royal College of Physicians. He later graduated PhD by thesis and MD from London University (Faculty of Medicine). He was elected to Fellowship of the Royal College in 1974. He trained in dermatology at the St Johns Institute of Dermatology, London and at the University of Newcastle upon Tyne. He was appointed Clinical Professor, Chairman and subsequently Dean of the Institute of Dermatology in 1975, a post which he held until retirement in 1999.

Following retirement from the St Johns Institute, London he involved himself in specialist dermatological training, research and clinical practice in SE Asia. He worked as Professor of Dermatology, Hospital Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia, Kuala Lumpur for 2 years, and was then appointed Senior Consultant Specialist in Dermatology, Singapore General Hospital, a post which he held for 2 years. In April 2005 he took up the position of Senior Consultant in Dermatology and Academic Advisor to the National Skin Centre Singapore, and Clinical Professor, Faculty of Medicine, National University of Singapore. He now practises dermatology part time in Poole Hospital NHS Trust and intends to continue his interest and involvement in dermatological developments in the Far East.

Professor Greaves has published extensively and authored in numerous authoritative dermatology textbooks and chapters. To date he has more than 600 articles in peer-reviewed journals and his pivotal work on urticaria and molecular basis of the inflammatory process is regularly cited by researchers.

He has been internationally acknowledged and has received numerous awards both at home and abroad including:

- Dohi Medal (Japanese Dermatological Association) 1981
- Parkes - Weber Medal (Royal College of Physicians) 1994
- Sir Archibald Gray Gold Medal (British Association of Dermatologists) 1996
- Von Zumbusch Medal (Univ of Munich) 1998
- Certificate of appreciation for Scientific Contributions to Dermatology Worldwide (International League of Dermatological Societies) 2002
- Award for Outstanding achievement in Dermatological Research (European Academy of Dermatology and Venereology) 2005
- Voted Best Teacher, National Skin Centre Singapore
